ARRIVING IN LUCERNE

Living and studying away from home can be a challenging experience, particularly at the beginning of your stay. There are several formalities that must be taken care of during your first few days in Lucerne.

Registration at the International Relations Office

As an exchange student, you must register at the University of Lucerne's International Relations Office during your first week. You will receive comprehensive information regarding introductory events (e.g. Orientation Week) from the International Relations Office.

When you register you will receive your university ID card (CampusCard), information on the residence permit and health insurance, as well as the confirmation of matriculation that you require for your residence permit.

As an international degree-seeking student you must register with the Admissions Office, you are invited to contact the International Relations Office once you are in Lucerne. We are happy to provide further information and answer any questions you might have regarding administrative tasks that have to be completed in Switzerland.

The International Relations Office (IRO) is located in the main university building on the 4th floor, Room A.21.

Residence permit

After entering Switzerland, all students (exchange students, international degree-seeking students, and students with Swiss government scholarships) are required to register at the registration office of the district in which they are living within 14 days of arrival. To register, you will need a valid travel document, proof of health insurance as well as a confirmation of matriculation from the University of Lucerne. After registration, the residence permit (foreigner's identity card) will be issued. Comprehensive information on this process will be given during the Orientation Week which takes place in the week prior to the start of the semester. A fee is charged for registration and for all documents (foreigner's identity card, visa etc.).

Accommodation

The University of Lucerne does not offer on-campus accommodation. However, the International Relations Office assists international students – especially those coming from overseas – in finding suitable accommodation. Exchange students receive detailed information during the online application process.

Health and other insurances

Health insurance is compulsory for anyone living in Switzerland for longer than three months. Students from an EU country who are legally insured in their home country have to apply for exemption from this obligation by using the European Health Insurance Card (EHIC) or a provisional certificate issued by their insurance company. The relevant forms for this process will be provided by the IRO and have to be submitted when registering with the community of residence.

Links

<https://scorestudies.ch/en/>

<https://swisscare.com/en/product/international-student-health-insurance-europe>

Students from non-EU/EFTA countries have to take out health insurance in Switzerland providing the cover stipulated in the Swiss national health insurance laws KVG-LAMaI. There are insurance plans for students (offered e.g. by Swisscare and Scorestudies) that fulfill these criteria and that are affordable. Representatives of these insurance companies will be present during Orientation Week and can assist you with the online application process. Please note that travel insurances are not accepted as health insurance by Swiss authorities.

We also recommend that you take out personal liability insurance before coming to Switzerland. This covers any claims brought against you for damage or injury to another person's property. This type of insurance is compulsory if you want to rent a room in a student residence.

The University of Lucerne will provide you with information regarding health insurance and personal liability insurance providers both before the commencement of your studies in Lucerne and during your first weeks here. We can also provide you with specific information on companies offering special conditions for international students.
